Good morning Jenn,

See below for the publisher reply regarding online availability of the 2002 American Society for Cell Biology Annual Meeting (your case serial number 10/718712). I hope this helps, and if you need anything else, please let me know.

Karen,

Yes, the 2002 abstracts were made available online on October 7. Thanks for your patience.

Good morning,

Have you been able to identify a more specific date of public availability?

Thank you for your time.

Karen,

I don't have a specific date accessible to me at the moment. I can tell you that the online abstract viewer goes live in late September annually. I will investigate further to see if I can get you a more specific answer.

Thanks,

Good afternoon,

Can you tell me the date that the abstracts for the 42nd Annual Meeting (December 2002) were posted online? I am specifically interested in the date that "(282/B237) Molecular dynamics in living mitotic cells of histone H3, centrosomal kinase Aurora-A and nuclear membrane protein importin alpha differentially expressed as fusions to cyan, green and red fluorescent proteins" by Sugimoto et al. was available.

Thank you very much for your time.
